THE BELIEVERS OF THE CONTINENTAL.—John R. James, J. T. Clark, William Smith, and Charles E. Harrigan, who were arrested at the Continental Hotel on Thursday night, on the charge of having been concerned in the assault upon John Turner, of Wilmington, Delaware, and a hearing at the Central Station yesterday afternoon.

Detective Webb sworn—On Thursday evening, about eleven o'clock, I was in the bar-room of the Continental Hotel; heard an excitement at the Sanson street entrance; went out and saw a crowd; ascertained that a man named Strong had been hurt; I met Mr. Isaac White, and he said that he thought he knew who done it; Strong ran again while in the hotel, and asked to be excused; I went to the hospital to-day; the physician told me that Strong was much better; I saw him; he would converse with me; the surgeon said he might be hurt internally.

Isaac White sworn—While standing in the hall of the hotel I saw defendants standing near the Sanson street entrance; Strong staggered towards Smith; the latter raised his hand as if to strike him; cannot say whether he struck him.

John C. Allen sworn—Heard one of the defendants say, "I have got him now; I will have my revenge." I was in the hall of the Sanson street entrance of the hotel; have no idea to whom he had reference.

The case closed. James Clark and Harrigan were held in $1000 bail each for a further hearing, and Smith was held to await the result of Turner's injuries.

HEARING IN THE CASE OF TWO OLD OFFENDERS.—The jury returned a verdict against Robert, alias Johnson, and John Mason, who were arrested in New York on Monday last by Detectives George H. Smith, Taggart, and Lamon, of this city, and Captain Jordan, of New York, had a final hearing at the Central Station yesterday afternoon, on the charge of having been implicated in the Hess, Rogers & Chambers, Henry M. Day, George B. Atkinson, and A. B. Ballard robbers, which occurred during the months of March and April last. James Hess also had a hearing, charged with being an accessory to the robbery of Hess, Rogers & Chambers' store. The burglarious implements captured by the detectives from defendants are said to be the most complete yet made in any country, being furnished with a lock and arrangement for opening fire-proof safes without the aid of gunpowder is certainly an ingenious piece of mechanism; it is the first, and believed to be the only one ever brought to this country. False keys, jimmies of the most approved kind, drills, augurs, and dark lanterns were also captured among the implements. Robert and Mason are considered the most expert English burglars that ever crossed the Atlantic. The former is said to be a ticket-officer from the New York and New Jersey Railroad, from which he made his escape to this country. The following testimony was elicited:—

William S. Hess sworn—I am one of the firm of Hess, Rogers & Chambers, No. 411 Market street; our store was entered on the night of March 7, 1866, by going through the back window; the vault door was opened by the means of false keys, and $1500 in bank notes, $114 in gold coin, a gold watch, several neckties, and about $200 worth of merchandise were taken; the books of the firm were mutilated, the pages containing the accounts for eighteen months back from that time were cut out and destroyed. (Watch shown.) That is the one taken from the vault; it was left with me, and repaired by the owner, Ephraim Manning, of Gold Hill, N. C.; I know Boys; he has been at our store a score of times; he visited the book-keeper, William R. Mitchell, who was arrested some time ago for burglary and embezzlement. Cross-examined: I was arrested on the 10th day after Mitchell was arrested; he asked me about the mutilation of the books of the firm; I asked him where Mitchell was; he replied that I did not know them.

G. B. Atkinson sworn—I am engaged in the shirt business at No. 101 Appleton alley; one of the firm of L. Atkinson & Co.; our place was entered through the front door last winter; about $4000 worth of muslin shirts and linens were stolen, also a pair of pantaloons and vest (shirt, pants, and vest shown); they belong to me.

Henry M. Day sworn—I am engaged in the lace business in the third story of No. 325 Chesnut street; my place was entered some months since; the lower part of the building was broken and the door leading to my room was forced open with a jimmy; lace goods and veils to the value of $2700 or $2800 were carried off. (Some of the goods recovered were shown and identified.) Witness: I was arrested on the 10th day after Mitchell was arrested; he asked me about the mutilation of the books of the firm; I asked him where Mitchell was; he replied that I did not know them.

A. B. Ballard sworn—I am a shoe dealer at No. 21 N. 13th street; my place was entered and robbed through the front door, about four months ago, and robbed of $700 worth of shoes. Two pairs of the stolen property which were recovered by the detectives were identified by the witness.

Detective George H. Smith, sworn—Officer Taggart and myself recovered the shoes and lace belonging to Messrs. Ballard & Day, at a house on Thirty-second street, between First and Second avenue, New York. Captain Jordan, of the New York police force, Taggart, Taggart, arrested Mason and Roberts at No. 268 E. Tenth street, New York, on last Monday afternoon; a carpet-bag containing jimmies, dark lantern, brace, bit, and auger, false keys, and other burglarious tools were found in Mason's room; the goods stolen from the store of the firm were found in the house at the time; Roberts was taken into custody with the other tools, a lot of new jimmies, etc., on his shoulder, just as he was coming in the front door; the large iron wrench was found under the bed in Mason's room; the goods stolen from Mr. Atkinson's place were recovered at the Harnden's Express Company's office, in New York.

John Haslam sworn—I live in New York; know the defendants; know Roberts by the name of Johnson; saw James Boys on Friday last, in his office, S. Third street; saw James Hess, Rogers & Chambers robbery; I got from Boys the impression of the keys in wax before the robbery took place; he told me, when he gave me the impression, that the place was in Market street that was to be entered and robbed; Mason and Johnson (other names Roberts) laid Boys' share out after the robbery took place; it amounted to $143; it was in counterfeit and Southern money; I was to give it to him; the store was to be burned down after the robbery had been accomplished; Mason told me that the books were to be destroyed by order of Boys; I got the watch from Johnson (Roberts); had an interview with Boys some time after the robbery, when I came on from New York; it occurred in his office; he asked me if I had his share of money; he said he told me no, that they had laid out counterfeit money for him; know that there were some shoes brought to my house by another man, named Bill; the shirts were brought by defendants; Mason and Johnson; the lace was brought by Mason; the shoes were also brought by them.

Cross-examined—It was Hess, Rogers & Chambers' store, No. 411 Market street, that Boys spoke about when he said that he told me where there was a safe and bonds (this was before the robbery), and asked me if I knew any one who could get it; I told him that I did; I gave the impression of the key, handed to me by Boys, to Mason on the same day it was placed in my possession; it was made of wax (impression shown); that is not the one, although it is similar; the impression was given to me in a small alley in the rear of the Continental, in March last; Boys told me at the interview that he was to have one-fourth of the proceeds arising from the robbery; I saw Mitchell and Boys in conversation on that day in the latter's office; Mitchell wrote upon a piece of paper the following:—"Have it to-night," meaning the impression of the key, and handed it to Boys; the letter wrote on the back of it, "All right;" the first conversation Mr. Boys and I had together about the robbery, he said that Mitchell had been robbing the place and he wanted the store robbed and burned to clear Mitchell; have known Boys for seven years; he formerly kept a grocery store at Strasburg, Pa.; he had the reputation of being a rambler at that time. Counsel for Boys asked witness what connection he had with the robbery? Witness declined answering, on the grounds that he would incriminate himself.

W. S. Hess recalled—There was Southern money in the vault when it was robbed, and a $50 bond. John Haslam recalled—Boys got $250 from a woman to get one of the men out of prison. Instead of doing so he put it in his pocket, and said if they went back on him now he was going to do the same on them.

Caroline Haslam sworn—Know Boys; saw the money divided at my house in New York; a portion of it was paid out for Boys' expenses. The testimony here closed. Mason and Johnson (Roberts) were held in $12,000 bail each to answer the charge of burglary at the present term of Court. Boys was held in $6000 bail to answer the charge of being an accessory before and after the fact.

JOHNSON AND CLYMER MEETING AT NANTUCKET GUARDIAN HALL.—At the meeting of the Central Johnson-Clymer Club last night, there was a large attendance, owing to the announcement that Hon. Alexander H. Stephens would address the meeting. H. Brunner, Esq., presided.

Hon. H. B. Wright, in the absence of Mr. Stephens, addressed the meeting. He referred to the war and its cost in blood and treasure as securing the integrity of the Union. The people of the South are now ready to come back and accept of the Union, if they have repudiated the Confederate debt; they have acquiesced in the abolishing of slavery, and are ready to do all that the Constitution requires. It is not our duty to keep these people at arms' length. We fought for four years to keep the States in the Union; why should we now seek to exclude them? (Applause.)

We must treat a fallen foe with some degree of magnanimity. (Cheers.) A radical party assert that there is no forgiveness for traitors. Christ did not teach that doctrine from the Cross. The reasonable men of the country must not take this matter in hand, and show to the country that the North is ready to forgive. The speaker was no apologist for the men of the South. He denounced the Rebellion and the people who were engaged in it. But the war is over, and with it all the issues then raised. (Cheers.) We never can have an enduring peace unless we treat the people of the South as brethren.

Judge Moses, of South Carolina, was the next speaker. He had, he said, no apology to make for South Carolina. If she did discharge the first gun in the war, it was done openly, after thirty years' notice to the General Government. CARD.—A large number of tickets remaining unsold, it will be necessary to postpone the drawing until THURSDAY, 11th of October, 1866, at which time it will positively occur.

The many swindling schemes that have been presented to the public during the past few months, somewhat delayed our sales, until we were able to satisfy the people throughout the country that this enterprise was genuine, and worthy of their support. The Directors are confident of the sale of every ticket, and have allotted a sufficient time to guarantee the sales without further postponement.
